

Appendix 5

DkIT @DkIT_ie · 2 Dec 2013

Visit of Archbishop Eamon Martin 5th December at 5pm in P1079, (PJ Carroll's)
tinyurl.com/k7m7vbz

Visit of Archbishop Eamon Martin

Coadjutor Archbishop of Armagh

Thursday 5th December
DkIT, PJ Carroll's
room P1079

5-6pm

Speaking about Pope Francis, The Church in Ireland, and (of course) Christmas!

All welcome
Refreshments afterwards

---

From: Paddy Rushe
Sent: 25 February 2019 14:04
To: Linda Murphy
Subject: RE: Freedom of Information Request Ref 181 - John Hamill

Hi Linda,

All I have on my system from the day was a poster and a couple of pictures.

From what I can remember, it came about from the fact that I was just starting off in the post, and wanting to see if Eamon would come and see the situation in anticipation of developing the Archdiocese's approach to the Chaplaincy, and in part it was the fact that he was not long appointed, and was doing a 'tour' of the areas – he was in Dundalk that day, I think?.

He called to see me, then we walked the campus, ending up in PJ Carroll's where he gave a presentation and took questions on various items; Approx. 20 people attended, and there were light refreshments afterwards. After the talk he popped into the Choir next door, as they were rehearsing for their Christmas concert, and were singing a piece of music which Eamon had written.

That's all I can remember. I've attached the relevant items.

Hope this helps,

Paddy